

SYNERGie™ – Essential Resource Management Platform

International Synergies Limited offers a bespoke software platform and support package to help businesses capture and manage their resources, significantly reducing costs and environmental impact.

Who Benefits?

Organisations and their supply chains.

How Does it Work?

SYNERGie™ offers database, project management, and reporting functionality to capture and store information about your resources and to easily identify commercial opportunities for reuse. Currently being used in nine countries around the world, SYNERGie™ allows you to characterise, search, and match your company's resources within a site and across multiple sites. Input from the world's most experienced industrial symbiosis expert team will help you to identify and advance opportunities within your own business, reducing site costs and moving towards Zero Waste operations. SYNERGie™ is designed to meet quality assurance protocol and audit requirements.

International Synergies can identify opportunities to manage and trade underutilised resources both internally and externally:

- Supply a bespoke version of SYNERGie™ to suit your own business needs;
- Train your employees to identify, characterise and input your resources into SYNERGie™; and
- Provide tools to generate reports and statistics on company resource efficiency activity to feed into your own CSR, sustainability and internal reporting.

“Returning resources to productive use is becoming an integral part of economic activity. It is vital, therefore, that businesses have knowledge of what is available and can trade such resources easily. I can think of no better platform for this than SYNERGie™.”

Keith Riley, Managing Director, Veolia Environmental Services
